

I am a very large supporter of strong Net Neutrality continuing to exist. The repeal of the Net Neutrality laws would be a great loss for the American people, handing over the control of the internet to a monopoly by the ISPs. This would allow the throttling of new businesses and would be an atrocity that goes strongly against the American Dream.

Regards,

Taylor Johnson